PROJECT INSIGHT

We are developing a Climate Action Map and Repository to showcase impactful Irish initiatives with strong community engagement. This project, coordinated by the University of Galway and CARO, supports community leaders, policymakers, and the public by inspiring action and fostering collaboration across Ireland.

Whether an initiative is established or emerging, join us to amplify its impact and enrich this growing repository of climate action stories and case studies.

HOW TO CONTRIBUTE

1. Submit an Initiative: Use our online form to quickly submit a description of a climate initiative, whether you're initiating or nominating. It only takes 3 minutes.
2. Collaboration and Development: If the initiative is selected, we will collaborate with relevant contributors to document and narrate the story, ensuring its prominent display on Ireland's Climate Action Map and Repository.

WHY GET INVOLVED?

- Visibility: Initiatives receive recognition for their efforts and showcase their community's commitment to sustainability.
- Learning Opportunities: Participants access insights from a broad network of climate action leaders and innovators.
- Build Connections: Collaborations enhance networks among stakeholders engaged in shaping Ireland's climate future.

STRATEGIC AIMS OF THE PROJECT

- Showcase and Inspire: Highlight successful climate actions with detailed studies and their inclusion on the national map.
- Educate and Engage: Connect with a broad audience—policymakers, educators, students, and NGOs.
- Research and Policy Influence: Deliver insights that shape policies and enhance academic studies, promoting effective climate strategies.

PHASES BREAKDOWN

Identification and mapping, stories collection, data processing and validation, ongoing public and academic dissemination.

UNIQUE VALUE PROPOSITIONS

- ① Combines attractive communication with research.
- ② Connects local community initiatives to broader national efforts.
